Real Estate Principles

Southern Union State Community College is pleased to offer Real Estate Principles (RLS 101) for individuals who are interested in learning the basic principles of real estate practice. The online format is perfect for business professionals looking to get into or keep up-to-date with the real estate industry. The course fulfills the study requirements to prepare students for the salesman's examination given by the Alabama Real Estate Commission.

The course may be taken for credit or non-credit. Students receiving college credit must make application to the college and meet entrance requirements. Students who wish to enroll as continuing education students for no credit must see Jeremy Taunton, Technical Advisor. The cost of the course is the same for credit and non-credit students.

This is a one-semester 4-credit hour course. Students must have access to a computer at home in order to complete the class. Students are required to come to the Opelika campus twice during the term: once for orientation and once to take the final exam at the end of the semester. The cost of the course is $520 tuition plus a $150 fee that must be paid on-line. No other textbooks or materials are required.
